We expect taller ones to follow. Going up . . . Wilson concrete on the tallest precast apartment in North America to date. Besides the savings in mechanical design provided by precast, we expect to complete the job four months earlier than possible with steel or poured in place concrete. (Construction is even running ahead of this estimate.) The additional rent and savings in loan costs are immediate benefits, low insurance rates and maintenance costs are savings that will continue indefinitely. With figures like these, of course we don't expect it will be the tallest for long.

MAINTENANCE COSTS STOP WHEN YOU BUILD ACME BRICK DOUBLE WALL SYSTEMS

NOMINAL 10" DOUBLE WALL
REQUIRING 4% OR LESS
MASONRY BONDERS

FOR COMPLETE INFORMATION:
Call your local Acme Brick representative or write today.

A "hidden" benefit in Double Wall Systems with Acme Brick is the elimination of maintenance costs. The initial cost of an Acme Brick Double Wall is virtually its final cost. No finishing or painting is ever needed. Because it is genuine new burned clay brick, it is stronger and much more resistant to damage than non-clay masonry materials.

The 10" load-bearing Double Wall System consists of outside and inside widths of King Size Acme Brick, with masonry bonders. The 10" Double Wall has a maximum height allowance of 15' between lateral supports. The Double Wall System gives outstanding design versatility in terms of vertical space requirements and aesthetic qualities desired.

If you are now planning a building, you should investigate the design opportunities and significant savings offered by the Acme Brick Double Wall Systems.

“Everytime you assist me with advice-and perform excellent service in the day’s work, this is a favor which I accept as personal – for it makes my day’s work much easier.”

A wonderful letter from a thoroughly professional woman office manager in one of the largest architectural firms in Kansas City included the above exact quotation. We don’t think she overestimated our eagerness to be helpful. We do it every day, all day, for many firms which seem to agree with her.

For a new bank...

A new finish for famous Carthage Marble!

It's the same dependable marble with an exciting new surface. Fresh from the gang saw, it has a rough texture with an etching of fine, parallel veins. We call it Carthage Patina Vein marble.

Architect Richard P. Stahl used 1 1/4" panels of Carthage Patina Vein as exterior veneer and column facing for this elegant and inviting new bank.

Give your next important building a mellow, timeless look with new Carthage Patina Vein marble.

ADLAI STEVENSON TO CHAIR SPECIAL XI PAN AMERICAN CONGRESS OF ARCHITECTS COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, D. C., — The Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, had accepted a leading role in the organization for the largest international gathering of architects in history.

Mr. Stevenson will serve as honorary chairman of the organizing committee for the XI Pan American Congress of Architects in Washington June 14-18. Its theme will be "Cities of the New World."

Arthur Gould Odell, Jr., FAIA, president of The American Institute of Architects, which is host to the Congress in conjunction with its 97th annual convention at the Sheraton Park Hotel, announced Mr. Stevenson's acceptance of the post.

"The combined Congress and convention will bring together in Washington this year the largest group of architects in the history of the world," Odell said. "Americans, North and South, are concerned about the quality of their cities and their impact on man's physical and spiritual well-being. We are delighted that Ambassador Stevenson will add his experience and prestige to our quest for knowledge and solutions to problems."

More than 1,000 architects from 10 Latin American countries are expected to join twice that many U.S. colleagues at the Congress and convention. This year will be the first in which the United States has been host to members of the Pan American Federation of Architects' Associations, formed in 1920. The Federation is composed of architectural societies belonging to the Organization of American States.

HAYDITE

Haydite is the original, time proven aggregate for producing lightweight structural concrete and concrete products. Concrete made with Haydite weighs approximately $\frac{1}{3}$ less than concrete made with ordinary sand and gravel yet provides equal or greater strength.

Extensive testing and nearly 50 years of jobsite experience have proven Haydite's superiority in durability, fire resistance, and both thermal and acoustical insulating qualities.

Other uses of Haydite aggregate include refractory concrete, insulating concrete, guniting, insulating fills, roofing granules, filtering media and hydroponics.

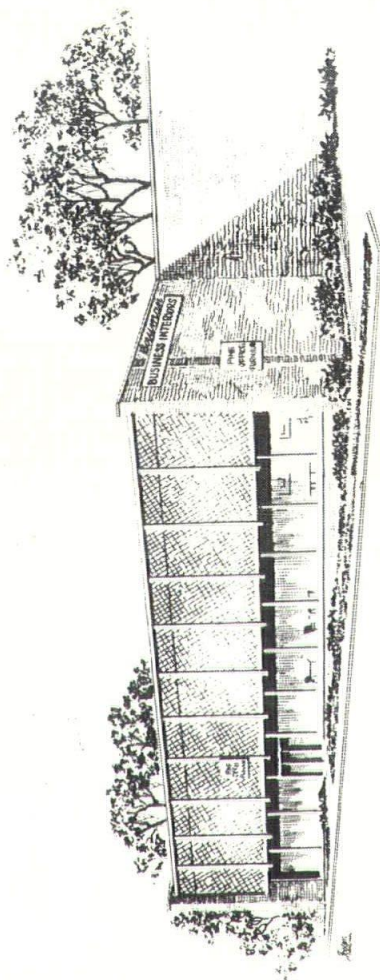

Call us for detailed information on specific uses of Haydite or mail the adjoining coupon for additional general information.
